

Resolution JYA23-C5 Jews and Modern Challenges

The global Jewish youth, represented at the Jewish Youth Assembly,

Welcoming new strategies based on research that would aid in the normalization of social and cultural diversity,

Expressing concern about cases of discrimination and racism being severely underreported, and lack of progress on governmental level,

Noting that Jews have historically been discriminated against, and so the Jewish people bear the responsibility of combating discrimination and celebrating diversity,

1. Stress the importance of expanding academic curriculum to include different cultures in an effort to increase awareness for all and provide the space for all identity groups, bearing in mind what incredible positive effects education creates,
2. Support the need to provide assistance and elevate marginalized groups for as long as they are being systematically discriminated against,
3. Encourage the promotion and integration of diverse groups in communities around the globe through positive interactions and celebration of diverse cultures,
4. Emphasize the dire need of implementation of anti-discrimination laws by all governments and the important role of the global Jewish community in advocating for such laws,
5. Request the global Jewish community, based on existing good practice, to aid governments around the world in stopping and preventing hate speech online and offline, discouraging the spread of misinformation, and promoting positive and fair narratives.
